Michigan Mathematics and Science Centers Network | 2014-2015

The MMSCN is dedicated to providing data and resources for teachers and administrators to assist with the teaching of math and science. I was requested to redesign their 2015 annual report, within which I used soft colors and light graphics to present data in an easy to digest way.

Jennifer Farrell, Starshaped Press
KBAC GALLERY, MARCH 2–APRIL 27

Since 1999, Jennifer Farrell has operated Starshaped Press in Chicago, focusing on printing everything from business cards and social stationery to music packaging and posters, as well as custom commissions and wholesale cards and prints.

All work in the studio is done with metal and wood type, making Starshaped one of the few presses in the country producing commercial work while preserving antique type and related print materials.

Jennifer's work has been repeatedly recognized both in print and design blogs, and has appeared in poster shows throughout the USA and Europe.

ORNAMENTAL LETTERPRESS WORKSHOP
Instructor: Jen Farrell
Price $95, Donor price $85.50
SATURDAY, MARCH 3, 10:00 A.M. TO 4:00 P.M.

This one-day workshop is designed to explore the patterns and expressive nature of metal type ornaments; it can accent letterpress design work or function as stand-alone imagery.

Students will create keepake prints ranging from simple one-color pieces to more intricate two-colored prints, based on ability. Common problems in letterpress composition will be addressed, as well as the aesthetic challenges that some type presents.

We'll look at tips and tricks to get the best results from both new and old metal type. Prior experience is helpful but not required and you'll go home with the work you create.

It is calculated based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a managed product's monthly excess performance, placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent outperformance. Introducing Our 2019 Season

I was requested to work on the GhostLight Theatre's website in late 2018. After delivering an initial mockup, I was thankful to also receive the work to design their show posters. Miscellaneous work followed. I was later told by the client that an actor mentioned "I auditioned [for a role] in part because of how much I liked the website".
